

UPHSL Extends Collaborative Hands to Partner Schools: Laguna Northwestern College, St. Bridget College, and International Peace Leadership College

Binan, Philippines, August 9, 2023—The University of Perpetual Help System Laguna (UPHSL) has extended a remarkable offer of collaboration, signing Memorandums of Understanding (MOUs) with three distinguished educational institutions. Dr. Rolando A. Entila of Laguna Northwestern College, Sr. Ma. Ananita Borbon of St. Bridget College, Dr. Venus Agustin and Atty. Jun Maglangit of the International Peace Leadership College joined hands with UPHSL in a momentous ceremony, marking the beginning of a journey towards enhanced educational quality and expansive research opportunities.

The MOUs, carefully crafted to promote mutual growth and development, encompass a wide array of collaborative endeavors. A central pillar of this partnership is the commitment of UPHSL to contribute its expertise in quality assurance in education. UPHSL stands ready to lead its partner institutions in enhancing their current quality assurance mechanisms, steadfastly ensuring a dedication to educational excellence.

The signing of these MOUs signals the initiation of joint research undertakings that will pave the way for interdisciplinary exploration, allowing scholars from diverse fields to pool their talents and insights. This cooperative approach promises to yield innovative solutions to pressing challenges while fostering a culture of collaborative learning. UPHSL is committed and dedicated to enriching the academic environment by providing lectures, seminars, and comprehensive training sessions for employees and teachers. These learning opportunities are poised to enhance the professional development of educators and staff, ultimately benefiting students and the academic community as a whole.

Through these partnerships, UPHSL is poised to unlock overflowing programs and services that will create a dynamic environment of mutual benefit. As UPHSL extends its collaborative hands, it reaffirms its commitment to championing the spirit of unity and knowledge exchange among educational institutions. This alliance is tranquil to usher in a new era of growth, innovation, excellence in education and research, elevating all parties involved to greater heights.

The presence of prominent educational leaders enriched the signing ceremony, marking a significant milestone in the journey of shared purpose and collective progress. As these institutions embark on this transformative journey, they set a powerful example of how collaboration can shape the future of education. The MOUs signed today not only signify a commitment to partnership but also underscore the pivotal role of education in shaping societies and driving positive change.
