Abstract

A school is a place of work, where security and safety are reasonable expectations for all Teachers, Employees, and Students; surveillance CCTV can play its part in meeting those proper expectations. Equally, regard must be paid to the rights of the individual for reasonable privacy and the avoidance of unacceptable, intrusive monitoring for whatever reason. The study aims to determine the point of view of employees and students towards “Closed Circuit Television (CCTV) in the School Campus. The descriptive survey questionnaires were conveniently administered to 189 employees and students of Our Lady of Fatima University. In this study, employees and students of the university strongly agreed on CCTV in the school campus for monitoring students’ activities and employees’ performance, as well as security and safety measures. It is also revealed that the respondents agreed on the perceived issues towards CCTV installation in the school campus. There were no significant differences among the point of view of the respondents towards the installation of CCTV on the school campus. The majority of the respondents likes the installation of CCTV in the school campus and among their location preferences are as follows: school entrances and exits; corridors; cashier and registrars’ office as the four topmost location preferences in the school campus and the least of which is comfort rooms.
